4,000 ENGINEEMEN TAKE BALLOT ON WAL KOUT IN DISPUTE ON TROY RUN

Between 3,000 and 4,000 Boston & Maine Railroad engineers and firemen are taking a strike vote today following a halt in negotiations between road officials and union leaders.

The strike referendum was ordered as the result of an extended run from Boston to Troy on the Pittsburgh-Berkshire division. The run formerly allowed crews to change at Troy, N. Y. Since November the trip has been lengthened to Troy.

According to union heads about 400 men in the Pittsburgh-Berkshire division are affected by the new run. The road officials claim only the crews of the Boston-Troy train, numbering about 40 men, are affected.

GETS FOUR YEARS AS DRUNKEN AUTOIST

Walter, Dec. 22 (A. P.)—George B. Rice, aged twenty-seven, head of a coal and wood company in Millbury, was sentenced in District Court here today to serve four years in the House of Correction on charges of driving automobile while under the influence of liquor and of driving away from the scene of an accident without revealing his identity.

The court imposed sentences of two years on each charge, one to follow the other. Rice appeared and was held for Superior Court in bonds of $150.

The police alleged that Rice was driver of a car which ran through a crowd of people coming from a moving picture show in Millbury the night of December 8, fatally injuring Hubert Lynch, aged ten, and Mrs. John Lynch, aged 22, and two sons of injuring two others.

HUB ASSURED 17 SHIPS ON SO. AMERICAN LINE

A fleet of 17 vessels may be assigned to Boston by the U. S. Shipping Board, to carry New England goods to rapidly expanding South American markets, in addition to the hub benefiting greatly from the assured purchases of the Cape Cod Ship Canal by the Federal government.

Recommendation that the ships be allocated to this port has been made to the Shipping Board by President Dalton of the Emergency Fleet Corporation. According to Boston business leaders, this virtually means victory to a long fight.

5 CHILDREN 'SHAKE-UP' DIE BY GAS BY FULLER

Bridgeport, Conn., Dec. 22 (A. P.)—Five children of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Ayre of No. 214 DeForest ave. were found dead by gas asphyxiation today.

There was but a spark of life left in the mother, while the father of the family also was suffering from the gas.

The children are William, aged 8; Winifred, 7; Edward, 5; Jessie, 2, and Irene, six months.

The discovery of the tragedy was made by the landlady of the house, Charles A. Altinger. Two jets were found open on a gas stove.

Ayre, 24, is employed in a meat packing house here. He retired last night with his wife, Winifred, 23, and their children. They were not seen about the house this morning and when Charles Altinger, who lives next door, went to investigate he detected the odor of gas.

He broke open the door and found the seven prostrate bodies in two places. Turn to Page 2, Column 5.

CLEVELAND FANS' IDOL TO SEEK REDRESS AND VINDICATION IN COURT

Important developments in the big league baseball scandal, the thunders of which are reverberating throughout the country, were as follows today:

1—Harry Heilmann, Detroit outfielder, forced the showdown "for the sake of clean sport."

2—Cobb and Speaker continue to deny any part in framing game, and Tris is urged to bring his case to court.

3—Leonard says he will make a further statement regarding scandal when proper time comes, and is quoted as saying that he is now even with Cobb and Speaker for letting him out of American League.

4—Judge K. M. Landis said he made the scandal public for the "good of baseball." "You have the facts, form your own conclusions," he said.

5—Elmer Myers, who pitched the game in question for Cleveland, said it was an everyday game as far as he knew. He said he had no special instructions and pitched in vain.

6—Hed Cullin, who umpired the game, said it was his duty to report any unusual circumstances, and he saw none.

Banished forever from organized baseball, following an investigation of a thrown game scandal, Tris Speaker, idol of millions of fans, will seek redress in the courts, according to dispatches from Cleveland today.

Speaker, who resigned as manager of the Cleveland Indians at the close of the 1925 season, declared he was going to get all the evidence in the case "doped out" before he made any definite move to have his name cleared.

Friends of the former manager, in Cleveland, are loud in declaring that Please Turn to Page 18, Column 1.

Good News for Christmas. Cans, Crops, Prosperity Gas War End Fight Or Be Friendly

Copyright, 1926, by Earl O. It's REALLY a prosperous country we live in, and the prosperity has only commenced. Arthur Reynolds, able Chicago banker, says a prosperity will last through 1927. It will also last through 1927 and beyond if we give it a chance, really work and do not cheat each other too much.

REVISED GOVERNMENT reports on crop report for this year at two billion six hundred and forty-five million bushels, wheat six hundred and thirty-two million three hundred and forty thousand bushels—and four million bushels of rice, eighteen million six hundred and eighty thousand bushels of cotton, thirty-three million nine hundred thousand boxes of oranges, etc., and you have a slight idea of what prosperity means.

AND UNLIKE oil, those crops are not exhausted, but go on forever increasing. Land in France planted to wheat for centuries produces more bushels per acre now than it did 200 years ago. The pity is that when farmers have big crops they get small prices. Combination sales and voting could help that, but farmers do not yet know how.

OTHER GOOD news for all Americans is this: The Lake cities will be connected with the Mississippi, the Gulf and all parts of the world by navigable waterways through legislation that passed this winter. And a canal from the Lakes to the Atlantic also seems to be in the air.

FEAR STRIKE MAY SPREAD

Warren, R. I., Dec. 21.—(Press) By a sympathy strike, affecting all nearby textile plants, issued today as the striking employees of the Parker Mill met in Holy Ghost hall to vote on the proposal of asking others to join them.

With orders issued for months ahead, looms at the Parker plant today remained silent. Cates were opened, but not a single employee reported for work.

The controversy was caused by refusal of two weavers to join the United Textile Workers of America. The pair claimed they belonged to a Fall River labor union and they would lose their stock and death benefits if they left it.

Superintendent James W. Fines of the Parker Mill today stated the company felt it would not be fair to discharge the two men.

COYNE SPURS GOV

His Offer to Furnish Proof in Public Session Turned Down,
He Appeals to Legislature

The Governor's Council today spurned the offer of Representative Francis X. Coyne of Dorchester to appear voluntarily before that body in the presence of the press to substantiate his charges that bad beef is served in State institutions.

At the same time, a letter, addressed to the governor and council by Charles F. Howard, chairman of the commission on administration and finance, was made public, telling of an investigation made in State institutions, by his office, into the Coyne charges.

FOUR REPORTS READ.
A report from each of the four commissioners—Mental diseases, public health, public welfare and corrections—Howard said, stated that the superintendents at each institution denied any having made any statement with regard to beef.

The superintendent of the Rutland State Sanatorium reported a conversation with Coyne, saying the member said "that two or three patients had complained to him about the food, but that many more patients, with whom he had talked, were satisfied and that he felt the complaints received were not serious enough to be given consideration."

TALKED WITH COYNE.
"The superintendent of the North Reading State Sanatorium reported a conversation with Coyne, who told him that he had received complaints that the food was rotten," the superintendent says he told Coyne, and this was in November, 1931, that if that was the fact then my family was also eating rotten food, as we had the same kind of food and cooked in the same pot."

"The superintendent further said the incident arose as the result of the complaint of a single individual who was a very sick girl and a most trying patient to handle."

SHOWED HIM THE BEEF.
This superintendent, Howard further reported, took Coyne down to the food box and showed him the beef and as the superintendent remembered it, Coyne said, "That looks good."

According to superintendents' communications telling of the excellent quality of the beef furnished were also reported by Howard.

Howard declared it is always possible for anyone visiting institutions containing over 25,000 prisoners and persons who are physically or mentally ill or feeble-minded, to find individuals who will complain.

"There may possibly be some bad beef in the type of this form of complaint for the allegations made by the members of the General Court," he reported, "beyond this I do not believe there is any bad beef whatever for the allegations."

Following the council's refusal to hear Coyne in public, the representative issued a statement denouncing the House action as being "as tainted as the beef that has been furnished at some of the State institutions."

H. V. GREENE IS FIVE CHILDREN FINED $2,500 DEAD BY GAS

Confined from First Page

The famous Henry V. Greene case, started by Attorney-General J. Weston Allen in 1925, ended today before Judge Poulak in Superior Criminal Court.

Henry V. Greene and Walter G. Burns changed their pleas of not guilty to pleas of noncontumacious and on recommendation of former Assistant Attorney-General Albert H. Brown, District Attorney O'Brien the indictments were placed on file and the defendants ordered to pay $2,500 costs each.

According to a statement by Hutz, which was part of the court papers, the indictments were brought in 1928 as a result of an investigation made by the office of the Attorney-General in connection with the sale by the H. V. Greene company of securities of the Mutual Finance Corporation and the Commercial Finance Corporation.

The Suffolk Grand Jury returned a number of indictments, and later equity proceedings were brought by the two finance companies against Henry V. Greene, et al. and H. V. Greene Co., and others.

All indictments charging fraudulent loans and other criminal acts arising out of and having connection with the making of such loans were not prepared.

Dry Forces Strike Hardest
Blow at Broadway Night
Life on Eve of Holidays

New York, Dec. 22.—United States prohibition forces, on the very eve of the holiday season of gaiety, struck their hardest blow against New York's night life early today.

Seven parties made up of assistant United States attorneys, policemen, federal prohibition agents and deputy United States marshals, all acting under direction of United States Attorney Henry R. Buckner, served general injunctions and bills of complaint in padlock proceedings on ninety of the city's best known night clubs, cabarets and restaurants.

The raids followed an investigation of three months carried out by agents using as "rich butter and egg" and distinguished visitors from the city.

THROW'S KISS TO AGENTS
Raids visited included such well known clubs as Texas Gulchman's 200 club, the Club Dover, Helen Morrell 1777-fourth street club, the Cafe de Paris, Dinty Moore Club, the Club Anatole, the Palladium Club, the Club Richmond, Barney's Del Fay club, Mor's Restaurant, Texas Tommy Gulchman's playground, the Embassy Club, the Club Biarritz and the Hawaiian Club.

The raids were carried out quietly and caused little disturbance of public.

Federal authorities said the raids were designed to forestall plans of its club owners for wet parties during the coming holidays.

Confiscated liquor was sent to the West 47th street police station where it was stacked in piles that filled the station.

It is gathering the agents "lived the life of Broadway from midnight until dawn" for several weeks.

Some posed as idle sons of wealth by London widows, others as big action brokers from the south, as other Russian noblemen of the late Czar's bodyguard and still others as wealthy real estate promoters from Florida.

AMONG THOSE PADLOCKED.
Among other places raided were Club Richmond, Inc., Leila Club, Vandenburgh's Restaurant, Arena Restaurant, Inc., Avon Club, Madison Doria, Jean Billard, Piping Rock Restaurant, Roman Supper Club, Club Menlo, Social Club of "Billingsgate," Restaurant Robert, Inc., Art's Restaurant, Mira Mrs. Club, the Central Club, Inc., Midway Merchant Club, Youngstown Social Club, the Central Club, Little Joe's, La Bonhomie, Futuristic International Academy, Mayfair Club, Club Carre, Red Robin Club, Hotel Rembrandt, Danteshaute Restaurant and Cafe, Paul and Jack, Hotel Rembrandt, Mile Hour, Celtic Football Club, the Club Biarritz and the Hawaiian Club, and Jack's Restaurant.

EAT, DRINK, BE MERRY, NOT PIGGY,' SAYS DOC

"Eat, drink and be merry on Christmas," says Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, commissioner of the Health Department of the City of Boston.

Believing that too many "don'ts" issued at various times by city and state departments, only tend to bore the general public, who cost them aside unnoticed, he has only issued one "don't" and that is "Don't over-indulge."

His message and greeting read as follows:

"As the coming festive season of Christmas approaches it is provocative of the inclination for everyone to eat, drink and be merry. "I am in accord with this inclination, but would add to this slogan, 'Be discreet and temperate in all things.' "Don't overindulge in eating, drinking or exercising. Have a

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

BOSTON, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1926

OTIS MILLS DECIDE TO STAY IN WARE

The threatened removal of the Otis Mills from Ware, and dismissal of 1500 employees, has been averted through concerted action on the part of stockholders, directors and employees of the textile plant, and Ware municipal authorities, according to an announcement made today at the Boston office of Henry G. Nichols, treasurer of the Otis Company.

The announcement followed a meeting of the directors, at which a special stockholders' committee made recommendations favorable to the retention of the industry in New England. This committee had previously submitted a similar favorable report to the stockholders.

Definite plans had been made for the suspension of all Otis activity at Ware. A small part of the present production of the mill was to have been transferred to a plant owned by the company at Palmer, but the greater part would have gone to Lee, Ark. This decision was made on last Thursday.

Today's announcement states that promise of reduction in taxes in Ware, greater cooperation on the part of employees, and economies of plant operation brought about the decision to retain the plant in Ware. The decision also applies to plants of the company at Three Rivers, Bondville and Greenville, N. H.

In a letter today to the committee, Governor Fowler declared that if there was any way in which the representatives of the State can collaborate with the committee in retaining the industry, the committee could consider the State officials at their service.

This committee comprised Henry K. Hyde, president of the Ware Trust Company; Joseph P. Hill, of Lee Higginson & Co.; William D. Schler, Jr., of the Old Colony Trust Company.

BIDS IN VALENTINO PORTRAIT FOR $400

Los Angeles, Dec. 22 (AP).—A full-length portrait of the late Rudolph Valentino, the work of the Spanish artist Beltrames, showing the film star arrayed in the armor of a Persian potentate of the time of the crusades, was sold to Mrs. Teresa Werner, one of the heirs of the screen star's estate, when a collection of paintings went under the auctioneer's hammer here.

Mrs. Werner, an aunt of Natacha Rambova, Valen-tino's second wife, paid $400 for the painting which originally cost the actor $600.

Pola Negri, asserted to have been engaged to the film star, and who, after his death, expressed the desire to own the portrait, was not present at the sale, nor did she bid by proxy.

Several other paintings of the sixteenth century and of the Louis Fourteenth period brought bids lower than had been anticipated. One portrait of Valentino sold for $150, but the other paintings averaged around $20.

Ernest Torrence, film actor, paid $300 for a seventeenth century rapier and shield.

day or tomorrow, be searched in the belief that the fugitive may have boarded her at Boston Light last week when she took seventeen passengers for Ireland.

District Attorney Thomas C.
O'Brien corroborated this when he stated he had notified the local Pinkerton Agency to check the passenger list of the Thurgings.

The district attorney was informed that the Thurgings anchored Wednesday at the Light to take on passengers who planned spending Christmas in Ireland. He learned that seventeen longshoremen and six visitors boarded the ship with the seventeen passengers, and that all but the longshoremen were checked off when the ship set sail.

1,000,000 URGE INCREASE IN U. S. DEFENSE

New York, Dec. 22 (AP).—High ranking Army and Navy officers and prominent civilians have taken up the cause of what they consider undue economy in national defense work in rendering the United States defenseless and playing into the hands of its enemies.

Clipping speeches and magazine articles, they are campaigning for greater maintenance of our national troops. A committee representing 14 patriotic, military and civil organizations, with a membership composed of 1,000,000 will hold its first Congress. It was appointed last month at a joint meeting at the Army and Navy Club here.

Representatives at the meeting were the Army and Navy
Club, Marathon Chapter of Officers Reserve Association, Military Order of the World War, New York Junior Board of Trade and Transportation, Civil Legion, National Civil Protection, American Defense Society, Government Club, New York State
Chapter of Commerce, Military Service of 1917, Military Order of Revolution and the Security League.

Another phase of the national defense problem is presented by Brigadier-General Henry J. Reilly, who warns of the European Dictator, who pictures the army of today as a demoralized group of underfed and unhappy men living in tin shacks ticle that on monthly basis about 1,000 soldiers are deserting each month.

HAMBURG STEAK---THAT'S THE BAIT FOR TROUT

Hartford, Ct., Dec. 22 (A.P.)—Hamburg steak, latest addition to the equipment of fishermen who frequent the Fulton River in Massachusetts, proved excellent bait for trout, according to the report of Superintendent John W. Trenchard of the fish commission.

A truckload of trout destined for feeding in a State-owned stream was put into Boston's pool in the Fulton River last March when the truck became stalled. The trout did not suffer, so fishing in the pool was prohibited.

The fish showed appreciation of food thrown to them from the bridge, and anglers acquired the habit of carrying Hamburg steak for them.

One angler, in his own boat, took from open waters below the pool 15 trout weighing ten pounds.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

CAROL ROGERS CHARLOTTE POTTER HELEN RUST
Three attractive society girls who have won that most coveted distinction, election to membership in the Junior League. (Pictures Posed Especially for The Boston Evening American Staff.)

EVEN SATIATED GOTHAM society, familiar (it would have us believe) with extra floral display, gave a gasp of delight when it visioned the setting for Miss Natalie Pollock's presentation. It was last evening in the Italian Garden of the Hotel Ambassador where guests from two hemispheres dined beneath cherry trees in full flower and danced in a tropical setting of pink tiger and calla lilies, smilax and boxwood, like a fairy dream.

THE GUEST LIST fairly groaned with its weight of illustrious names, such as stand for prominence in American circles—those of Vanderbilt, Iselin, McCormick, Gerard, Minot, Agassiz, Astor, Barrymore, Cutting and Crowninshield. The Post and Pratt, Rice, Lanier, Gould and Cochran. Other names of wealth there were in this scintillating list—names preceded by the titles that never fail to dazzle even those who dwell among the free and equal.

PRINCE HOHENLOHE, Viscount of Weymouth, Lord Numburgh, Sir John Lavery and his lovely Lady dined and danced in Miss Potter's honor. It was indeed an occasion befitting the coming out of a girl with blood of azure hue, grace and girlish beauty and with a family background of high distinction and great accomplishments.

BOSTON'S WORLD of fashion and consequence feels a very intense interest in the charming Miss Potter, who is the granddaughter of the famous citizen, Professor Charles A. Augustus of Harvard University and beautiful "Helen Lee." She is the daughter of a girl who flatter their when they know that the social finish—her New York presentation last evening—loved a similar whirl in Boston, when she formerly met counterparts of her most grandiose and her mother's friends at a lovely soiree at "Helen Lee's."

THE NEW YEAR'S advent brings in the trials a pleasant series of hospitalities that smelt of times more leisurely than today when the custom of "dropping in for tea" occupied the hours of twilight. I refer to the "at home" Mrs. Philip Andrews gives, on Monday during January and February, in that gracious setting provided by the Commandant's House in the Navy Yard, where Admiral Andrews is commanding officer.

MRS. ANDREWS has in to assist her wives of officers on duty at the yard. The commandant's house is one of those affairs wherein "bitchin' world" has its magic touch. It has those beautiful rooms with low eaves that are beautiful expressions of what the world is with paneled woodwork and handsome furniture. The dining room, a richness of white painting, is a gem in itself.

THIS BANNER of the Junior League so far as 1926's functions are concerned, may be said to be completed with the recent election of debutantes to the post. Miss Carol Rogers, Miss Helen Rust and Miss Charlotte Potter were three of the younger set to receive the coveted nomination.

EVEN THIS year in the season does Allen continue to figure in the social news, especially in connection with certain social happenings who annually migrate southward to undergo the winter in his brilliant skin. I refer particularly, of course, to Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Warren and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Pollock, and the small Warrens and the Furber young hopefuls.

THEIR SUMMER soiree to mind Miss Allen is mentioned. Mr. and Mrs. Furber have the Wynona Park avenue cottage where this season. The Warrens go down about January 1, but the Warren string of horses is already there and being exercised. Dress and fox hunting and polo are the very breath of social life, and the Warrens are leaders in this spirited sport life.

WOMEN MAY SMILE AND SHOW ANKLE; IT'S O. K.

May's Landing, N. J., Dec. 21.—If the jury does not object, a woman may smile on the witness stand as much as she please, Judge Snodgrass has so ruled. No jurors complained about Mrs. Madeline B. Astell. In fact some of the jurors smiled back when she was prosecuting rulers who sought divorced evidence.

New York, Dec. 21.—The disclosure of a young woman's ankle to a juror is optional. Miss Anna Poirer, suing for injuries caused by a fall, refused a request of the defendant's counsel and was upheld by the court. She won a verdict for $100.

FIGHTING FOR A MAN—A girl's brave battle with herself and another woman for love is told in "Golden Roads," by Winifred Van Dine. Boston never read a better story. It begins next Monday's Boston Evening American.

DEAD WIFE SUIT TO BARE LOVE OF HOWARD

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 22 (A.P.).—Whether the story of the late Mrs. Suzanne Philip-Howard's ill-fated romance with John F. Howard, millionaire of Haverhill, Mass., will be based in a Milwaukee court depends on Circuit Judge Gustave Gehl's decision on a question of law he has under advisement.

Clipped of technical phraseology, the question is simply whether a suit for alienation of affections can be presented against a dead woman. If the court should rule that such an action is capable of surviving the person against whom it is directed, Mrs. Margaret Howard, divorced wife, will have an opportunity to attempt to substantiate her charges that Mrs. Philip-Howard of Milwaukee, alienated the affections of the aged millionaire and induced him to obtain a Mexican divorce so he might marry her.

These charges are contained in a bill asking damages of $122,000. The alienation of affections began, Mrs. Margaret Howard alleges, when Philip-Howard several weeks before the latter's death in October, 1925, was in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Philip-Howard was formerly Mrs. Eleanor Philip, widow of the wealthy head of the Philip Lithographing Company, of Milwaukee.

Her marriage to Howard in 1924 was approximately a year ago was followed by charges that Howard had obtained a fraudulent divorce from Mrs. Margaret Howard by the seducing some other woman to impersonate her at the divorce hearing.

Women's Appeal for Less

CRASHES INTO STORE WINDOW TO SAVE GIRL

Swerving his automobile to avoid running down a small girl, who was brushed and bruised by a linden, Robert McFar of Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge, today drove through a plate glass window in a store front at No. 791 Centre street, Jamaica Plain.

The child, Mary Vaughn, five, of No. 25 Elevation street, Jamaica Plain, was when a nearby doctor's office and truck.

The large window, ten feet by ten, in the store of Charles H. Rogers, druggist, was shattered and McFar barely escaped injury from the flying glass.

McFar said the girl started across the street in front of him too late for him to stop and he had to swing on to the sidewalk to avoid killing or seriously injuring her.

TONGUES WAG IN GOY 'DIVORCE'

New York, Dec. 22 (U.S.A.).—The alleged arrangements between Jeanne Bachel, star of "Rain" and her husband, Ted Coy, for a divorce—that is, everyone was talking but saying anything, in fact they were "not at home" to the divorce.

The temperamental star and her former football hero, according to the rumors, are all set to sever the marital ties which have been a source of trouble to both.

Jeanne is scheduled to appear on the stage in London, and the report is she will go to the French capital first.

Mrs. Bachel and her society husband were married some sixteen months ago at the home of Ted Bachel, near Stamford, Conn. Not so long ago, it was reported, she was divorced by her first husband, the former boxer Mollin, a famous beauty of Louisville, Ky.

How Well I Remember the Trips to Your Store

How well I remember when I was a youngster the trips my parents and grandparents made to your store. I always begged to go along—and how I thrilled when I looked into your glittering showcases of beautiful jewelry and gossiped about your store. At that time you had a little place on Bromfield Street.

Today you have a big store, but the courteous treatment and the friendly atmosphere still prevail. The nice things said of your company by my grandparents are still repeated by the present generation. It seems to me that everybody has a fine word to say about the Washington Jewelry Company.

NEW ENGLAND HOLLY IS ALMOST WIPED OUT

New York, Dec. 22 (A. P.)—Holly is practically wiped out, it is said, and in the Southern States it is nearly so. The reason is that the supply of the wild plant, Mrs. L. Boston, honorary cashier of the New York Botanical Garden, has been almost entirely exhausted. Holly in the New England States is also nearly gone.

Running with Priscilla

Dear Anne:
I never knew which deserve the most sympathy; those who slipped early and often, or those who haven't done any at all, and now you're running and frantic to catch up. I want to tell you that I'm not a runner, but I'm a runner's friend.

The London Harness Company
For instance, (6) Priscilla's horse because he is a pretty little fellow for $4.00. Or, (7) for a pair of leather shoes for $4.00. Or, (8) for a pair of leather shoes for $4.00. Or, (9) for a pair of leather shoes for $4.00.

My Practical
If you caught sight of any language, bar, bill, fold, or anything in the leather line, on the leather line, I'd suggest the Priscilla Leather Shop and guide her down Tremont Street to the corner of the Little Building, my Boston.

Neckties and Socks
Are on every list. It's too late to "shop around" for them, so we had best be on our feet. And they are the incurable last night-of-the-last-day shoppers. We'd best go straight to George L. Griffin & Son, Inc., 370 Washington Street.

Next We'd Go
To the Norfolk Hosiery Company, up on the street floor across from the Little Building. It's a good idea to drop in there once or twice a week, anyway, to see what the latest styles are. It comes in fifteen different colors of No. 800 are complete and full. Just complete with every size and color. Do you know the No. 800?

WHITE HOUSE REPLY

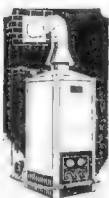

MEET "Mr. Thermostat" — a quiet, faithful, efficient little Janitor who'll tend your Gas Furnace, keep your basement clean and not "track in" dust, ashes or soot. And you don't have to pay him a salary.

AUTOMATIC GAS HEATING

means no more "furnace tending" for you than applying one match to the burner and setting "Mr. Thermostat" to watch the flow of gas. The coal hod, ash can and scoop go into the attic or out to the Summer home with the rest of the "has-beens."

"Heat by Pipe Line"

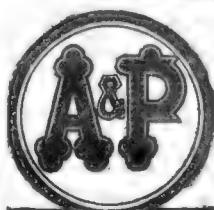

If you're sick and tired of fuel stoking and storing, ash sifting and hauling, damper and draft adjusting and want a clean, usable basement, ask that a Boston Consolidated Gas Co. home heating expert be sent to figure your release from this Winter drudgery. He'll give you the facts about heating your home with Gas. Then if you decide to worry through another season with the old heating plant, there's no harm done.

"BLACK SOX" OF 1919
These Chicago White Sox stars were convicted of framing the world series with the Cincinnati Reds, and read out of baseball. That scandal caused the appointment of Landis.

"Just an Everyday Game," Says Pitcher Slim Myers

CHICAGO, Dec. 22 (AP)—Pitcher Slim Myers, who was convicted of framing the world series with the Cincinnati Reds, said today that he was just an everyday player. He said he was not a part of the scandal and that he was not a member of the "Black Sox" club. Myers was one of the seven players who were convicted of framing the world series with the Cincinnati Reds in 1919. He was sentenced to a year in prison and a fine of $10,000. Myers is now with Knoxville of the South Atlantic League.

How the Principals in the Drama Speak Their Lines

CHICAGO, Dec. 22 (AP)—Here are some statements made by the principals in the drama of the "Black Sox" scandal.

TY COBB, former Detroit manager—I have played the game since 1905. I have never been in a position where I could be accused of anything. I have never been in a position where I could be accused of anything. I have never been in a position where I could be accused of anything.

LEONARD TO SPEAK WHEN "THE PROPER TIME COMES"
Evanston, Ill., Dec. 22 (AP)—When the "proper time comes" Harry B. Leonard, former Detroit pitcher, will not deny or admit anything. He said he was not a part of the scandal and that he was not a member of the "Black Sox" club.

LARRY GARDNER RECALLS
Evanston, Ill., Dec. 22 (AP)—Larry Gardner, big league ball player for nearly a decade, said today that he remembered no outstanding incident of the scandal.

James H. Vahey's Christmas Suggestions

"This year I am sending my friends who like a nice smoke a box of Elcho Cigars. One of my intimate friends who is in the cigar business tells me that the quality of tobacco used in the Elcho is the best in the market. I realize when I give my friends Elchos I am giving them unusually fine hand made cigars and also helping New England's labor. That is what makes it a most desirable Christmas gift for New England people."

Republican Neglect of the Navy Has Gone Far Enough

Perhaps we are going to need another Democratic administration in Washington in order to rebuild the Navy.

Letting the Navy disintegrate is an old practice of the Republicans.

They let it go to pieces entirely after the Civil War. It was not revived until Cleveland as President and William C. Whitney as Secretary of the Navy put the Navy on a basis to make Americans feel justifiably proud and safe under its protection.

Whitney built the White Squadron that became a great navy, which Roosevelt later sent around the world.

Then, under Republican management, the Navy stood still until Wilson's second administration, when work was begun on an array of battleships and battle-cruisers which would have given us a Navy so strong as to make the country immune from any possible attack.

This time the Republicans did not simply let the Navy go to pieces. They scrapped it as almost the first act of the Harding administration, destroying twenty-seven battleships and battle-cruisers, finished or under construction, in the so-called "Naval Disarmament Treaty," signed at Washington.

Today the naval authorities tell us that it will cost five hundred million dollars to restore our Navy to the equality with England secured in the Washington Treaty.

The Navy is the democratic arm of the service. It can only be used for the protection of the country, never for the oppression of any element in the nation.

That is why the people of the country are not afraid of a great Navy, though they are afraid of a great standing army. A great Navy and an adequate air service are what will make a great standing army unnecessary.

"Keep on RUNNING," Says Red Grange

A Good Motto for Life, Outside of Football

Red Grange, greatest football player, tells readers of the sport pages, "NEVER STOP RUNNING WITH THE BALL UNTIL SOMEBODY STOPS YOU, EVEN THOUGH YOU HEAR THE UMPIRE'S HORN BLOWING, INDICATING THAT SOME RULE HAS BEEN VIOLATED."

The tendency of the average man is to stop running whenever a good excuse offers. Running is hard work. STOPPING IS EASY.

Some stop when they shouldn't, because the umpire's horn blows. Others stop short when the whistle blows. Millions watch the clock, and when it is watched, it never has any good news for them.

Red Grange says: "I have known of runners stopping at the sound of the horn, believing that play had been halted. If they kept on running they might go to a touchdown and the score would count, too, if the defending side was of fault."

"That is why I say that the ball carrier should never stop until somebody brings him down. Find out afterwards what it is all about. There is no penalty for crossing the goal line with a ball even if your own team committed the foul."

Nearly all young people are interested in football and admire Red Grange. If they would use in their daily work the advice he gives on football, they would have reason to thank Red Grange and this column for giving him.

NEVER STOP RUNNING, never stop trying. Keep going AHEAD, gaining ground, fighting that which you are supposed to fight. That's the road to success in football or in real life.

Red Grange says also: "Never let an opposing player who carries the ball move in the direction of your own goal, even though you think a whistle has blown, or that some violation of the rule nullifies his advance. Bring the opponent moving toward your goal DOWN, and find out afterward whether or not he had any right to be moving that way."

Keep running and fighting. KEEP TRYING, keep moving, and in the right direction.

Don't listen for an excuse to stop, but watch for an opportunity to get farther ahead. That's the right policy for football and everything else. KEEP ON RUNNING.

"Mr. Policeman"

He Calls Upon Lillian and Margaret.

Patrolman William A. Lapiere of the New Bedford Police Department is the sort of policeman we should like to have on OUR beat.

A neighbor told Patrolman Lapiere of the plight of Lillian and Margaret, six and nine-year-old sisters, whose father, ill of pneumonia, had just been carried away in an ambulance. The mother of the children is an inmate of Taunton State Hospital.

Lapiere found the little girls in tears. There had been no fire in the house in two days. They had been without food twenty-four hours. They were poorly clad.

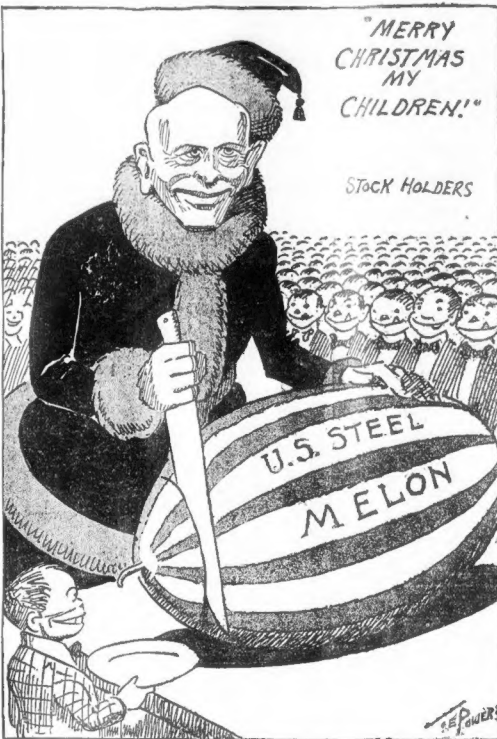

The policeman, "Mr. Duty," first procured decent apparel for the children and then "took them into custody."

Did he carry them off to the police station? No, he did not; he took them with him to the Lapiere home in Merrimack street, gave them dinner, made them warm, showed them that there ARE people who "care."

In due time, the big-hearted patrolman reported the case to his superiors, by telephone. The Children's Aid Society was notified and Lillian and Margaret will be cared for until their poor father is restored to health.

We do not know what the City of New Bedford will do about it, but it does seem that an act so humane as this of "Bill" Lapiere's should receive recognition, a letter from the Mayor or the Governor, or six hundred Merry Christmas cards from as many little children, safe and happy in the protection of father and mother.

APPLE IS FRIEND OF MANKIND

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THERE was a bumper apple crop this year. The government report says that the production of apples this year was more than seventy-eight million barrels. This means about three hundred and twenty apples per person.

The favorable weather this year is responsible for the finest crop on record and prices were very low.

The apple is the first fruit to be mentioned in the history of the world. It was an apple that Eve ate.

Most other kinds of fruit are called some sort of apple. Potatoes are earth apples—pommes de terre—apples of China, tomatoes are love apples, and so on.

The apple contains a mild acid which is very beneficial to most systems, although some people cannot eat them.

So healthful is the apple as an article of steady diet that we have a proverb, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away."

Many people eat an apple just before going to bed. It has been noted that those who do not drink or have given up the drinking habit are very fond of apples.

They seem to be in some way a substitute for liquor. The apple is the friend of man and the ideal food. It not only contains nourishment and vitamins, but it has sufficient bulk to be of value in the intestine.

Apples are good raw, and apple pie is a great American institution.

Every encouragement should be given to the production of apples and to their wide consumption. They are not only a pleasant, but a health-giving, food.

ONIONS

LIEUT. MAINTIN H. KING of the BOSTON POLICE DEPARTMENT, assigned to Station 7, EAST BOSTON, knows his onions and likes 'em. Good strong onions comprise part of the nightly diet of the genial Lieutenant. The stronger they are the better I like them," he says.

A little salt added to a strong onion, according to the one-star officer, has black coffee backed out of sleep for keeping a man awake and alert in the still watches of the night. He doesn't keep as he does, either.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELISIE ROBINSON

So you, Roberta, is back in jail again. Not out a week when the cops caught him trying to rob a clothing store.

"Just prove that you can't be these fellows," snorts the Treat-enough Advocate. "Once a con ain't a con. These birds won't go straight even if you give them a chance."

You've heard that argument, haven't you? Have you ever stopped to wonder how much of a chance we give the convict on his release? Give dollars' worth of chance—

Ben Milliken has been talking today they are sure. Slouching, shapeless men in shabby, ready-made suits that clings them in like a uniform. Men whose legs move with a dreadful, mechanical regularity.

One wonders their minds move that way too—their pride slouches and shuffles like that. Piling past a desk, and as they file an official hands each man a five dollar bill and says a few perfunctory words. They're "free."

"Free"—to start again. How much freedom does a man get for five dollars?

Surely, you've wondered out of that door, with five dollars, whether you'll be able to make a living.

It's a hell of a lot to ask. But the odds are that you'll be back in jail in less than a week.

Facts About Mars

By Garrett P. Serviss,

Noted Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest

A LADY writes, under date of October 12: "Could you give me the meaning of the large star in heaven? It is in the east and is the largest in the sky. We have noticed it only about a week."

It would like to know the meaning of it, and also the name. It is a strange star. First it was very bright and then it got dim."

The "large star" in the planet Mars on one of its regular returns to the part of its orbit where it appears on the opposite side of the earth from the sun, and consequently is much nearer than usual to the earth.

In the middle of October it rose in the east not long after night closed in, and it is high in the sky at the same hour. It was nearest to the earth at the beginning of November, and has since been receding, in the sky, and now is nearly as far away as it was at the beginning of the year.

At all astronomers, all over the earth, have been watching Mars during this time, and many having powerful telescopes at command, have been studying his peculiarities from day to day, if perchance they might find out a clue to the solution of the long-standing question whether that planet is an inhabited world, or a lifeless, cold, and sterile ball of earth.

But all agree that Mars has days and nights of about equal length to ours—though its year is nearly twice as long—and that the atmosphere, which all can see about it, is doubtless composed of some gas, which is certainly a very rarefied peritelluric.

These points, says on Mars was and with the means, just as do the far Northern and Southern snows on the earth.

It may turn out after the observations have been made, that some very interesting discoveries have been made which will throw light upon the habitability problem.
